

Smart, but® Geographically Undesirable, Now Smart and Re-employed!

Thank you all for your support during my search!

I am starting with a new company on 2/19/07 as Controller. They need a Controller because the former Controller was promoted to VP and General Manager. I will be reporting to him.

An executive search firm (across LBJ from your office) saw my resume on Career Builder or Monster, we talked then met in person, I interviewed three times and got the offer and negotiated up a little. Their conservatively stated bonus and stock grants should provide a substantial increase and even better based on past history. Gwen from your client services division emailed me a report titled "ELECTRONIC RESUMES - Stats show 80% of employers use the Web for recruiting"; and it's right on target in this case.

Thanks for your suggestion to Join FENG (Financial Executives Network Group) it was a great way to network and I plan to stay in FENG.

You were all a pleasure to work with.

Sincerely,
M. H.
